Had He Been Extended in the Least, Three-year-old Could Have Lowered Record of 1:37 2-5, Which Was Made by the Famous Hermis, with 133 Pound Up, in 1904.

New York, July 10 .- Had he been extended in the slightest degree, Charles Edward, a three-year-old chestnut colt by Golden Garter-Flora Mae, would have broken the world's record for a mile on a circular track at Brighton Beach to-day. Charles Edwards, running in the colors of the Patchegue Stable, owned by William H. Dubois, started in the Brighton mile, a weight for age race, and with Willie Knapp in the saddle he was returned an easy winner in 1:373-5, a new track record, for the previous figures were 1:38, made by the famous Hermis, with 133 pounds, in 1904. The world's rec ord is 1:37 2-5, held jointly by Dick Wells, who established these figures at Harlem track, Chicago, in 1903, and which were equaled by Kiamesha at Belmont Park Open Series with the Champion in 1905. Charles Edward was a 3-to-1 second choice. Dr. Gardner was a hot favorite at 9 to 5.
